
THE GREAT PRISON BREAK

by G. Edward Griffin

According to author Griffin ". . . the United States Supreme Court has fallen into the hands of men who are using it, not in its traditional role as defender of the forces of law and order, but as a battering ram against those forces."

The past president of The American Bar Association and Honorary Life President of the International Bar Association, the Honorable Lloyd Wright has stated: "The author presents . . . a most incisive expose of the unbelievable conduct of the Supreme Court of the United States. It is a work that every person concerned with the ideological opinions handed down by a majority of the Court must read.
